

3. Raising Children and Education

(1) Receiving your Maternal and Child Health Handbook and Health Counselling for Expectant and Nursing Mothers [Public Health and Child Welfare Section in Your Local Ward Office]

● Issuance of Maternity Health Record Books

If you become pregnant, please submit the Notification of Pregnancy given to you by the medical care institution to the Public Health & Child Welfare Section in your local Ward Office and receive your maternal and child health handbook.

The maternal and child health handbook records the results of the tests, physical examinations and vaccinations necessary for the health of the mother and child. It contains notes on pregnancy, childbirth and childcare. The records of vaccinations will be important even after your child enters elementary school. Therefore, please keep it in a safe place.

In addition, we provide health counselling for expectant and nursing mothers when we issue you the maternal and child health handbook. Please ask at the Public Health & Child Welfare Section in your local Ward Office for the detailed schedule and locations.

● Counselling for Expectant and Nursing Mothers and Counselling on Infant Physical Examinations and Childcare

You can receive information on healthcare (from pregnancy to childbirth and childcare) and nutrition, as well as a dental examination and a consultation in the counselling we provide to expectant and nursing mothers. In addition to these, we arrange infant physical examinations (when children turn one year and six months old and again when they turn three years old), childcare counselling and rehabilitation counselling. Please ask at the Public Health & Child Welfare Section in Ward Offices for the dates and locations.

● Admission to Elementary Schools and Junior High Schools [Contact: Board of Education Guidance Section]

In Japan, you must send your children to school if they are between 6 and 15 years old. Children go to elementary school from 6 years old and junior high school from 12 to 15 years old.

It is also possible for the children of foreigners to attend elementary school and junior high school in Japan. The municipal elementary school and junior high school your child will attend is determined by your address. There are also special needs classes and special needs schools for children with disabilities.

When you register as a resident in Kumamoto City, the elementary school in your area will send you information about a physical examination at the time of school admission (around October) if you have a child who is of elementary school age. Please complete the procedures by the day before the school entrance ceremony if you wish for your child to attend a municipal elementary school.

If you move to Japan in the middle of the school year, please complete the procedures to enter school with the Board of Education Guidance Division after registering as a resident. We will accept you at any time.

If you wish for your child to receive instruction in a Japanese language class to learn basic Japanese, please complete the procedures at the elementary school or junior high school after you enroll.
